

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 is a Federal law that prohibits discrimination based on the gender of students and employees of educational institutions that receive federal financial assistance.

Title IX states that:

“No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.”

In compliance with Federal and State law, the Carrollton School District has a written policy on sex equity and a grievance procedure for investigating complaints of alleged discrimination on the basis of sex.
